Course Content

EVOLVE Courses are self-paced and relevant, with resources that include a solid balance of research and applicability. All courses feature video clips, articles, and interactive elements to enhance and support learning. Participants will engage in the following:

- Activate prior knowledge in order to establish new learning goals.
- Access research-based resources and materials to deepen your understanding and broaden your skillset.
- Assess new learning with a Knowledge Check formative assessment.
- Complete activities to implement new learning in the classroom or school setting.
- Engage in student-to-student interaction in a discussion forum.
- Reflect on professional growth and consider the potential impact of newfound knowledge and skills.

To receive a letter of completion, participants must complete a Final Assessment and score 80% or higher.

Safe and Supportive Schools

Course Number: 205_25 | 3 Hours

This document is an outline of the course requirements and is subject to change.

Course Description

This course explores the crucial elements of safe and supportive learning environments. Participants will explore the role of the Office of Safe and Supportive Schools (OSSS) in promoting student well-being and school safety. The course examines the interconnectedness of physical safety, school climate, and student behavior in creating comprehensive school safety. Through engaging investigations and reflective activities, educators will gain practical strategies for both physical and emotional safety in their classrooms. Join us to enhance your understanding of trauma-informed practices, social-emotional learning, and equitable approaches to ensure every student thrives.

Course Objectives

1. Explain the role of the Office of Safe and Supportive Schools (OSSS) in promoting student well-being and school safety.
2. Describe the interconnectedness of physical safety, school climate, and student behavior in establishing comprehensive school safety.
3. Apply strategies for encouraging emotional safety in the classroom, including trauma-informed practices and social-emotional learning.
4. Analyze the impact of equity on creating a safe and supportive learning environment for all students.
5. Identify the responsibilities of a mandated reporter in the context of education.

Course Materials

This course does not use a textbook. All required articles and resources are linked within the course modules.

Important! Courses are completed 100% online within the learning management system. You should have access to a compatible web browser (such as Google Chrome, Microsoft Edge, Apple Safari, and/or Mozilla Firefox). While our course platform does support mobile devices, for the best user experience, we recommend using a desktop or laptop computer to complete courses.

Course Delivery

Collaboration

Collaboration is a key component of the learning experience, designed to promote a supportive and inclusive learning environment where diverse perspectives are valued and respected. Teaching Channel asks learners to interact with their peers through discussions, participate with colleagues in collaborative assignments, and engage with embedded tech tools.

Academic Integrity

While collaboration is encouraged, each learner must complete their own assignments and assessments individually, ensuring the integrity and originality of their work. Any instances of academic dishonesty, including plagiarism or unauthorized sharing of work, will be addressed in accordance with Teaching Channel's Collaboration and Plagiarism Policy.
